WHAT IS A...

SUBDIVISION? (Westerly Code Section A261)

- The division or redivision of a lot, tract or parcel of land into two or more lots, tracts, or parcels. Any adjustment to existing lot lines of a recorded lot by any means shall be considered a subdivision.

ADMINISTRATIVE SUBDIVISION?

- Resubdivision (as defined in Westerly Code §A261-8) of existing lots which yields no additional lots for development and involves no creation or extension of streets.
- Such subdivision shall only involve divisions, mergers, mergers and division, or adjustments of boundaries of existing lots.

MINOR SUBDIVISION?

- A subdivision of land yielding ≤5 new units/lots that doesn't require waivers or modifications as specified in RIGL §45-23-62 or Westerly Code §A261-22
- The Planning Board may reassign a proposed minor project to major review only when the Planning Board is unable to make the positive findings required in § A261-14.

MAJOR SUBDIVISION?

- A subdivision of land yielding >5 new units/lot.
- A subdivision of land that requires waivers or modifications as specified in RIGL §45-23-62 or Westerly Code §A261-22

LAND DEVELOPMENT? (Westerly Code Section A261)

- A development project in which one or more lots, tracts, or parcels of land are to be developed or redeveloped as a coordinated site for a complex of uses, units, or structures, including but not limited to planned development and/or cluster development for residential, commercial, institutional, recreational, open space, and/or mixed uses as may be provided for in the Zoning Ordinance and as further described in Section 260-45.1

MINOR LAND DEVELOPMENT?

- Development plan for a multifamily residential project, provided that such development does not require waivers or modifications as specified in Westerly Code §A261-22.
- The Planning Board may reassign a proposed minor project to major review only when the Planning Board is unable to make the positive findings required in § A261-14.

MAJOR LAND DEVELOPMENT?

- Development plan for a residential project that requires waivers or modifications as specified in Westerly Code §A261-22.
- Development plan for a non-residential project.

DEVELOPMENT PLAN REVIEW? (Westerly Code Section 260-45)

- Construction of any new multi-family residential structure, or combination of structures, with three or more units, except for those projects that require review under R.I. Gen. Laws §§ 45-23-38 or 39 (and Westerly Code Section A261 as a Land Development Project).
- Construction of any new commercial, industrial, or mixed-use structure or combination of structures, with a gross floor area of 1,000 square feet or more, except for those projects that require review under R.I. Gen. Laws §§ 45-23-38 or 39 (and Westerly Code Section A261 as a Land Development Project).
- Construction of any addition or expansion of impervious surface of at least 1000 square feet or 25 percent of the impervious surface, whichever is less, to an existing multi-family, commercial, industrial, or mixed-use structure, or combination of structures.
- New development, or the redevelopment, reconstruction, relocation, or enlargement of an off-street parking area or loading facility.

The following activities are exempt from Development Plan Review:

- Any activity associated with a change of use of any land or any structure if such a change:
  - Does not involve physical alteration of the land; or
  - Involves interior modifications to a building only; or
  - Involves exterior modifications to a building which results in an increase in the area of the lot which is covered by impervious surface of less than 1000 square feet or 25 percent of the impervious surface, whichever is less.
- Single or two-household detached residential structures
- Upon the written decision of the Town Planner finding that the change in use or occupancy and construction will not affect existing drainage, circulation, relationship of buildings to each other, landscaping, buffering, lighting, and other considerations of development plan review, and that the existing facilities do not require upgraded or additional site improvements to become or remain consistent with Westerly Code Section 260-45
